TREASURE HUNT CLUES	LETTER
Reeves pheasants are known for being quite territorial. Your first coin is being guarded by ours and his Australian Pond Aviary friends.	<input type="checkbox"/>
This Howe Truss Bridge has found a new home near The Barn. Find it and you might just find your next coin!	<input type="checkbox"/>
Staglands pioneered the first walk-through aviary for Kea, the world's only alpine parrot. Visit ours today for another coin.	<input type="checkbox"/>
Did you know that eels can travel over land? Go to the place where our eels hang out and you might spot your next coin hanging nearby.	<input type="checkbox"/>
We are kiwi icons with a couple of NZ beers named after us! See if you can spot us in the Whio Aviary, along with your next coin.	<input type="checkbox"/>
Who's that trip-trapping over my bridge? Please don't wake the troll, but the billy goats might point you towards your next coin.	<input type="checkbox"/>
Take a trip to the Bushmans Bank, where gold was once stored. You might strike it lucky today!	<input type="checkbox"/>
Our rabbits like hiding out in the Secret Garden. Your final coin might just be here too.	<input type="checkbox"/>

WHO AM I?

I have wings but I cannot fly.

Seriously speedy, my strong legs help me to motor along at up to 50kmh!

My eggs are supersized (like me!)... each one weighs about the same as twelve chicken eggs!

I am the avian emblem of Australia!
